This form must be received prior to May 8th, 2012. One form per individual.

COMPLETE TERMS AND CONDITIONS:

This offering is for a random selection (blind drawing) of one winner (hereinafter called Selected Winner) on or immediately after May 8th, 2012. Thereafter Marina Terauds will develop a new Ex Libris plate of a theme and design that she finds appropriate and will dedicate such edition for the Selected Winner. This shall be done by inscribing the name of the Selected Winner (or designee) name on the plate from which the new edition shall be pulled. In addition, the Selected Winner shall receive 5 Pulls (copies) of the new edition (a value of $275.00).

Each person may enter this chance to win once. Individual members of the same household may enter separately. However, this chance to win is limited to persons 18 years or older.

The intended edition size shall be 200, exclusive of any Trial Proofs and/or Artist Proofs. The entire edition shall contain the selected winner's name. After setting aside the 5 pulls (copies) for the Selected Winner, Marina Terauds will retain full rights, to the remainder of the edition. Marina will have the right to sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of this remainder. Marina shall also retain the copyrights to the image.

Marina often enters her bookplate images into artist competitions and it can be expected that the image will be further promulgated via print and online catalogues. By entry into this random selection, each of the parties acknowledge these conditions and agree that if they are the Selected Winner, the acceptance on their part will be deemed to be a release of any and all interest in the Ex Libris image and all of the remainder of the edition.

All decisions concerning the design of the image and placement of the name shall be solely those of the artist, Marina Terauds. It may take up to 60 days to finalize the plate and have the 5 pulls prepared and delivered to the Selected Winner.

Marina Terauds may use your email and/or mailing address on future occasions to inform you of neighboring events and special promotions. However, you have the right to opt out of any promotional notices and such opt out shall not affect your chances to win. If you should be the Selected Winner, your name and city may be use in follow-up releases authenticating this promotion. However, at all times your email and mailing address shall remain private within Marina's company and shall not be shared or sold without consent
